ENG 162. Science Fiction and Gender H1, CCD 4 credits

In this course, students will interrogate science fiction’s role in exploring cultural constructions of gender. In addition, this course will acquaint students with the questions and critical conversations that shape both the study of science fiction and the study of gender. ENG 170 is recommended prior to enrollment. (Sp, Su)

ENG 164. American Indian Literature and Spirituality  P1, CCD  4 credits
An introduction to the study of American Indian literature and cultures, representing select geographical locations, through literature, film, and primary sources.* Students will examine the importance of storytelling in reflecting, maintaining, and shaping tribal cultures, identities, histories, and traditions. *Course texts will represent a selection of geographically diverse American Indian cultures that will always include a Great Lakes Indian tribe to promote understanding of local cultural diversity. (Sp)

ENG 165. Writing the Body: Cultural Explorations of Race, Gender, and Class  H1, CCD  4 credits
This course explores how different cultures write meaning onto bodies, the mechanisms used to write those meanings, and the impact those meanings have on the bodies so inscribed. In general, this course looks at how culture uses the body as a site for enacting cultural practice and understanding. (Fa)

ENG 170. Writing Seminar  4 credits
Required for all first year students. Through critical reading – and with special attention to language, audience, purpose and structures – students develop effective approaches to writing. May not be counted toward an English major or minor. (Fa, Sp, Su)

ENG 170H. Writing Seminar  4 credits
Students develop effective approaches to writing to an advanced degree. May not be counted toward an English major or minor. (Sp)

ENG 190. Introduction to Creative Writing  4 credits
In this workshop, students will learn the conventions of three major genres of creative writing – fiction, non-fiction and poetry – as they develop their own process of creating these texts. This course is designed as an ideal introduction to creative writing and the workshop format for those students who are curious about, yet perhaps unfamiliar with, the area. (Fa)

ENG 206. Fiction Writing  F1  4 credits
By studying master works of short fiction selected from contemporary authors and by participating in writing workshops, students will work to develop and refine their skills of writing fiction. (Sp)

ENG 207. Poetry Writing  F1  4 credits
In this workshop, students will learn the conventions of poetry writing by studying master works of poetry and writing their own poems. (Fa)
ENG 208. Creative Nonfiction Writing: The Documentary Impulse

Students in this workshop will read and analyze a range of nonfiction texts, including literary journalism, documentary film, personal essay, and literary memoir, and examine the impulse to document the truth that underlies nonfiction. Students in the course will produce both analytical work about the genre as well as their own, original nonfiction pieces.

ENG 255/255H. Postcolonial Literature and Theory P1, CCD 4 credits
Literature of indigenous world cultures (non-Western-Eurocentric literature), to consider relationships between place and cultural identity, constructions of cultural difference, relationships between cultures, and operations of domination and resistance. The course also looks at the roles writers play in establishing or reestablishing cultural identity and addresses issues of ethics and morality in crossing cultures. (Fa, Sp, Su) (255H: Fa, odd years)

ENG 298/398. Independent Study 1-4 credits
Prerequisites: Junior standing, approval of the divisional dean and consent of the instructor.

ENG 300. Great Authors H2, CCD 4 credits
Intensive study of a body of work by an author deemed “great” by scholars and critics. This study will include relevant critical and biographical readings and discussion of what, ultimately, makes the author “great.” ENG 170 is recommended prior to enrollment. (Fa, odd years) Prerequisite: Junior standing or consent of the instructor.

ENG 301. Chaucer H2 4 credits
Intensive reading of the works of Geoffrey Chaucer, with special focus on the ways in which he both operated within and transcended the artistic conventions of his period. (Sp, odd years) Prerequisite: Junior standing or consent of the instructor.

ENG 303. Milton and Moral Choice: His Age and Ours P2 4 credits
Study of John Milton's poetry and prose, supplemented by other seventeenth century writers, concentrating on issues of the nature of Good and Evil, Moral Choice, Free Will, Guilt and Innocence, Gender, Desire, War, and Censorship. Discussion focuses on how these issues represent some of the most pressing anxieties of Milton's time and our own. (Fa, even years) Prerequisite: Junior standing or consent of the instructor.
ENG 304. Shakespeare: From Stage to Screen H2 4 credits
Intensive study of representative histories, comedies, tragedies and late plays, with a focus on understanding their historical contexts as well as how the plays have been adapted in recent films. (Sp, even years) Prerequisite: Junior standing or consent of the instructor.

ENG 305. Advanced Exposition and the Rhethorical Tradition H2 4 credits
Students will read and analyze rhetorical texts ranging from Classical authors like Aristotle, to Modern and Postmodern theorists like Burke and Foucault. Theories learned from these texts will be used to examine historically important American speeches. (Fa, odd years)

ENG 306. Advanced Fiction 4 credits
Students in this workshop will focus more specifically on the foundational skills they studied in ENG 206. Readings will focus on understanding and analyzing the conventions of fiction, such as dialog, narration, theme, language and character, and using that knowledge to write and revise short stories. (Fa, even years) Prerequisite: ENG 206.

ENG 307. Advanced Poetry 4 credits
Study of the theory and art of poetry. Extensive practice in writing both traditional and experimental poems. Student work will be discussed and analyzed in a writing workshop format. Students will also study the development of styles, forms, and theoretical concerns of American poetry from pre-1900 to the present day. (Sp, even years) Prerequisite: ENG 207.

ENG 308. Advanced Creative Nonfiction 4 credits
Students will build on their foundational knowledge of the nonfiction genre by focusing on one form. Reading in the genre will be more challenging, and students will be expected to analyze the components of nonfiction writing and apply those to their own pieces. (Fa, odd years) Prerequisite: Junior standing or consent of instructor.

ENG 309. Romantic and Victorian Literature 4 credits
Students will read major writers of the nineteenth century in their historical context with emphasis on major poetry and prose, including the novel, in relation to literary and cultural history. (Sp, even years) Prerequisite: Junior standing or consent of the instructor.

ENG 312. Modernism and Postmodernism H2 4 credits
Students read major works of the modern and postmodern periods in relation to prevailing cultural constructions of self, art, and the nature of reality. Students will also consider the causes and consequences of the widening gulf between highbrow literature and popular fiction. (Fa, odd years) Prerequisite: Junior standing or consent of the instructor.
ENG 323. Early Modern British Literature
Verse, prose and drama of the Early Modern Period, including works by Behn, Donne, Herbert, Jonson, Marlowe, Marvell, Milton, Spenser, Sidney and others. The course studies sixteenth and seventeenth century literary traditions as they reflect and construct culture, as well as the ways the Early Modern Period anticipates and resists issues such as power, gender, love and faith in our time. (Sp, even years) Prerequisite: Junior standing or consent of the instructor.

ENG 326. The Age of Exuberance: Restoration and Eighteenth Century British Literature
A study of the artistic and moral values of the important writers of literature from 1660-1800. Themes of the course include: the evolving attitudes toward the emotions, reason, and the imagination; the ideas of order and control; the art and effect of comedy; the impact of the new science and the emerging middle class; the changing definitions of man and nature. (Sp, odd years) Prerequisite: Junior standing or consent of the instructor.

ENG 380/480. Internship in English
Work experience under professional supervision with opportunities to observe and question. Written report required. Only four credits may be applied toward completion of the major. Recommended as 10th course in the major. Prerequisite: Consent of the instructor.

ENG 497. Guided Senior Thesis
The thesis will be completed under the guidance of a selected faculty member. Students will create a unified thesis of revised and polished work that will be used for final assessment. Prerequisites: ENG 496 and consent of the instructor. (Sp)

ENG 499. English Major Capstone: Advanced Literature Seminar
In the capstone, students are expected to demonstrate mastery of the five English Program Learning outcomes. Course will be conducted as an advanced literature seminar and students will read primary as well as secondary materials in order to understand and insert themselves into a contemporary critical discussion. At the end of the seminar, students will submit a senior thesis project which demonstrates scholarly research, critical engagement and literary analysis. (Fa) Prerequisite: Senior standing as an English major.
