Directed by Dr. Jeremiah Cawley, assistant professor of music and director of choirs and vocal music

Our Carroll University, our home so fair and free!
To thee our loyalty we pledge, and praises sing to thee,
Thy hallowed halls we love so well,
the campus walks, the victory bell.
Our hearts and minds rejoice to be,
thy sons and daughters; Hail to thee.

Norman and Louise Allhiser Award for Teaching Excellence

Professor Amy A. Cropper, professor of art

The Carroll University Norman and Louise Allhiser Award for Teaching Excellence was established in 1986 through a fund established by Norman and Louise Allhiser to recognize exceptional instruction by a member of the Carroll University faculty.

Prof. Amy Cropper teaches sculpture, drawing and freshmen and senior seminars. Prof. Cropper received her Master of Fine Arts from the University of Iowa in Intermedia Arts in 1993. She did her undergraduate work at Whitman College in Walla Walla, WA, graduating with a B.A. in Art and English in 1985.

Prof. Cropper's work ranges from sculpture to installation to drawing. Since the 90's, she has been interested in the overlay between nature-made process and human-made order. She has exhibited her work nationally and regionally and completed several public art commissions. In 2022, she was awarded 1st Place in the competitive Wisconsin Artists Biennial held at the Museum of Wisconsin Art. Her current work explores the idea of home through the study and manipulation of specially-designed birdhouses, which she brings into the studio once the birds have abandoned them. Three of Prof. Cropper's artworks are featured in Carroll University's Wisconsin Artists Collection, which was established in 1981 by long-time Carroll Art Professor Marceil Pultarak.

Her impact is also widely felt in the classroom. A former drawing and composition student said, "I think that Amy's knowledge of the subject is fascinating. As a student, you sense her admiration and love for art. A passion. As one of the older students in the class, seeing passion in this setting provides the sense of optimism that passions come in all different forms." Prof. Cropper is praised time and again for her patience, flexibility, creativity, and for her methods of teaching art to students with little to no art background. She is also well-known for the energy and enthusiasm she brings to the classroom, as well as her thoughtful engagement of her students.

Benjamin F. Richason Jr. Faculty Award

Dr. Jessica M. Brown, *associate professor of exercise science

The Carroll University Benjamin F. Richason Jr. Faculty Award is a memorial award established in honor of Professor Benjamin F. Richason Jr. and requires that recipients demonstrate excellence in teaching, research and educational innovation.

Dr. Jessica Brown's research centers largely on the use of prescriptive exercise to attenuate the deleterious side-effects and toxicities associated with cancer and its treatments. Additionally, she investigates the positive effects exercise interventions and rehabilitation have on patients diagnosed with chronic diseases and various comorbidities. Prior to coming to Carroll, she served as the Clinical Coordinator of the University of Northern Colorado's Cancer Rehabilitation Institute and taught countless courses and certification workshops on Cancer Rehabilitation.

Student comments often describe her personality as passionate, engaging, and inspiring. Many characterize her teaching as inspiring and down-to-earth, which is infused with her sense of humor to make complex material accessible and engaging. Her teaching style and passion of her field of Exercise Physiology frequently inspire students to continue their education into graduate school, including many who had never considered they had the skills to attend graduate school. One alumnus noted, "I never once dreamed I would be a candidate for a master's program, but Dr. Brown believed in me and gave me a chance, which built confidence in myself. With her support, I knew I could succeed. And I did."

To better simulate real-world clinical interactions, she reached out and partnered with Laura Gray and Carroll's Standardized Patient Program, collaborating with trained student J.M. Brown Nomination actors who portrayed patients with specific conditions and complications that real clients might present. She invested substantial time planning scenarios and preparing the student performers to realistically depict these cases. This initiative exemplifies Dr. Brown's commitment to student-centered and career-ready approach, highlighting her teaching excellence and her dedication to ensuring her students are genuinely prepared for real-life clinical practice.

Presidential Medallion

The presidential medallion consists of a large silver Carroll University seal that is highlighted in gray enamel. Directly above the seal is a silver leaf banner bearing the name of the current president. Further up the chain, each side is flanked by two small, silver Carroll College seals, also highlighted in gray enamel. The chain culminates in two silver Presbyterian crosses on each side. The connecting links are made up of individual silver curved banners engraved with the names of Carroll's preceding 14 presidents and their dates of leadership.

Mace Bearer

Formal academic processions include a mace bearer, whose mace is the symbol of the university's authority. During medieval times, the function of this person was to defend the president of the university. As a result, custom dictates that the mace bearer always be in sight of the president. During the Commencement ceremony, the mace is placed on a rack in full view of the audience and easily accessible to the mace bearer. This indicates that the university faculty is present to conduct formal and legal business. In honor of the university's 175th anniversary, a new mace was fashioned for Carroll using wood from a large black walnut tree that once stood on Main Lawn – a gift to Carroll from President Cindy Gnadinger and her husband, John. The tree, which dated to the university's founding, was lost following a 2019 windstorm and now symbolically lives on as the institution's official mace.

Academic Procession

In addition to the mace bearer, the academic procession includes members of the board of trustees, faculty and administration of Carroll University, graduates and honored guests. The tradition of the bagpipe band comes from the Scottish Presbyterian Church. At the beginning of their first year, new students are escorted into the university's First Year Student Convocation by a single bagpiper. Today, we honor our graduates by piping them into and out of the ceremony with a full complement of bagpipers.

Official Presbyterian Cross

On June 8, 1985, the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church (USA) voted unanimously to adopt the symbol found on the back of this program as the official seal of our denomination. This symbol can also be seen on Shattuck Music Center.

We are invited to see in it whatever we see, but among the artist's ideas are a fish and a dove, a cross, triangle, a chalice and flames. The half-circle suggests the circle of the Celtic Cross, a symbol long associated with Presbyterian history. The flames remind us of the Holy Spirit at Pentecost. One can also see a pulpit with the contours of an open book, emphasizing the importance our Reformed tradition has placed on the role of scripture in our faith and lives. The flames are designed so that, with the center of the cross as one point, and the bottom of the design as a side, we can see a triangle, reaffirming our Trinitarian faith.

Some people also see in the design the suggestion of a person. Perhaps it is Jesus... perhaps it is you.

International Flags

As part of this weekend's celebration, Carroll University is proud to fly the flags representing the country of origin of each of the graduating international and Commonwealth students. These flags can be found on the flag plaza near East Avenue, below the flags of the United States of America, State of Wisconsin and Carroll University.

- Bolivia - three equal, horizontal stripes of red, yellow and green.
- France - three equal, vertical stripes of blue, white and red.
- Ghana - three equal, horizontal stripes of red, yellow and green with a central black star.
- Italy - three equal, vertical stripes of green, white and red.
- Japan - a field of white with a central red circle.
- Netherlands - three equal, horizontal stripes of red, white and blue.
- Norway - a field of red with a navy blue Scandinavian cross bordered in white.
- Portugal - a vertical bicolor of one-third green and two-thirds red with a central, national coat of arms.
- Spain - the Spanish coat of arms in the center of a triband of red, yellow and red.
- Sweden - a field of blue with an off-center, yellow cross.

Class Flag

The Class Flag for each graduating class is flown during the final week of classes and throughout Commencement Weekend to celebrate and honor the graduating class as they are welcomed into the Alumni community.

Academic Regalia

The pageantry of Carroll University's Commencement ceremony is derived from the traditions of European universities of the Middle Ages. Scholars at these early universities were primarily members of religious orders, and they adapted the regalia of their monasteries to the academic setting. The cold, stone lecture halls of medieval universities necessitated long gowns, hoods and caps for warmth. Due to our nation's British heritage, academic regalia has been worn at universities and colleges in the United States since colonial times. To ensure uniformity, an intercollegiate commission has established regulations for academic gowns, hoods and caps that are accepted by most educational institutions.

Today's scholarly garments are similar to those of the Middle Ages. The cap, called a mortarboard, is a symbol of academic freedom. The cap's tassel is usually black, although scholars holding a doctorate degree may wear a gold one.

The flowing gown symbolizes the democracy of scholarship, since it covers clothes that would otherwise indicate the rank and social status of an individual. Together, the academic gown and hood signify the type of degree earned and official colors of the educational institution granting the degree. The master's gown is black with arc-shaped sleeves, while the doctor's gown is usually black with velvet panels and bars that might indicate the wearer's field of study.

Latin Honors

Latin Honors are used to indicate the level of distinction with which an academic degree was earned. These honors are based on a student's cumulative grade point average. To be eligible for Latin Honors, a student must have completed all degree requirements. Cum Laude is a Latin term for with honor.

- Cum Laude, Latin for with honor, recognizes a candidate for graduation who earned a grade point average of 3.400 with a single orange cord.
- Magna Cum Laude, Latin for with great honor, recognizes a candidate for graduation who earned a grade point average of 3.600 with a double cord of orange and navy.
- Summa Cum Laude, Latin for with highest honor, recognizes a candidate for graduation who earned a grade point average of 3.900 with a triple cord of orange, navy and white.

Because of printing deadlines, it is possible that the list of candidates for degrees as presented in this program is not accurate. The program is not an official Carroll University document and does not constitute certification that those whose names appear have completed degree requirements. The official awarding of graduation honors is subject to the student's completion of all requirements for the degree.
