Christine (Cook) Applegate

“After graduating from Southern Illinois University in 1977 with my Master’s, I spent the next 15 years working in higher education administration for universities in Indiana, Arizona and California. Marrying in 1984 in California, I then shifted into social work and continued in that field for 23 years, starting in Child Welfare and ending my career as Director of Social Services in two different counties in California. Retiring to Palm Springs in 2013, I do volunteer work, serve on nonprofit boards and have fun. Never had children, but enjoy my nieces and nephews and their children now.”

Family Update

Married to Randall Applegate, Psychotherapist

Nostalgia

“I loved the entire experience with great professors, lifelong friendships made, my sorority experience and learning I could do anything I set my mind to.”

Linda Beckstrom

Worked in Public Information at a social service agency for 15 years and learned graphic design technology as the computer age arrived. Then provided freelance graphic design and marketing communications (original art, design, copywriting, content development, websites and social media) for primarily women-owned businesses, human services agencies and youth-serving arts agencies. Instrumental in the development of the South Shore Frolics Festival of Arts, a juried fine arts fair in Milwaukee, where I Exhibited hand-painted silk wearables. Produced a fashion show drawing from mine and others' collections of 1940s - 1980s apparel. Currently enjoying upcycling clothing into unique and quirky pieces.

Family Update

Married Ken Meyer in 1988. He recently retired as an Automation Engineer for the City of Milwaukee Water Department.

Nostalgia

Many snapshots of vivid memories: Being accepted by upperclassmen in the Poetry Circle writing group as a freshman and doing readings. Moving through the open floor plan of the "Temporary" Art Building, interacting with different levels of students, learning from them, and exhibiting together. Discussions in the cafeteria with coffee and donuts following early morning classes. Parties with Theater majors and Psych majors. Carroll radio station playing "Rainy Day Women #12 & 35" in the cafeteria. Listening to Ron Cuzner while friends crammed for exams; as an Art/English student, I didn't really need to cram but enjoyed the camaraderie.

Professors

"The entire Art department, especially Marceil Pultorak, who had a special way of dealing with her young students' insecurities and building their strengths....not just for me. The entire English department, creative writing professors Viola Wendt and Jim Vopat. ESPECIALLY Gordon Folsom, who made me work hard. His introductory Poetry class and wide-ranging Shakespeare lectures have followed me all along and greatly influenced my informal lifelong learning adventures".

Debbie (Cleveland) Cassettari

“After graduation, I worked in Park Ridge, Illinois for a few years. After getting engaged, my fiancé and I moved to the Los Angeles area. I worked downtown Los Angeles for 15 years as an administrative assistant. After the birth of our second son, I stayed home with our children. Our adult children live in the Los Angeles area. My husband, Dennis and I enjoy traveling, checking out new restaurants and working in the garden. I volunteer at an animal shelter 3 days a week walking the dogs, and we have one dog of our own.”

Family Update

“My husband and I have been married 45 years and have two sons, Steven, 33, and Mitchell, 30. My husband owned a fire sprinkler company before retiring 9 years ago.”

Nostalgia

“Carroll truly molded my life. I was a quiet, shy girl, and my four years at Carroll gave me confidence and many friendships I carry today. Some of my closest friends are from my freshman year and beyond. I still meet bi-yearly with Carroll friends, even though we live in different areas of the country. The campus was so lovely, and my friends and I always found something to do on the weekends. Schlags were a favorite! Many games of Sheepshead were played in our dorm room.”

Memories

The photos - enjoying Boone's Farm in our dorm room. Carroll campus in 1974. Ladies ready to go out to a schlag.

Sue (Spink) Ellis

Sue married her college sweetheart, Fred Ellis, in 1975, and they moved to Indiana for 3 years before moving to central Wisconsin for 7 years. During that time, the couple had 2 daughters, Betsy and Jenny. In 1985, the family moved to Waukesha, where Sue obtained a 2nd degree from Carroll. While her husband, Fred, worked in Microbiology in both the food industry and medicine, Sue spent her life working with children. She taught children from preschool through 4th grade, worked at the Women's Center and shelter, headed church youth groups, taught Sunday School, and cared for numerous babies. In retirement, she spent many days watching grandchildren!

Family Update

Sue and Fred were blessed with 5 grandchildren. Daughter Betsy was married to Josh in 2000, and they have 2 children. Daughter Jenny married Matt in 2013, and they have 3 children. The grandchildren range in age from 8-16. Family get-togethers are frequent. The extended family celebrates birthdays and holidays together and enjoys time at Sue's Lakehouse on the Chain 'O Lakes in Waupaca, Wisconsin. Unfortunately, tragedy enters everyone's life at some point, and it struck in April of 2022 when Fred suffered a fatal fall while doing yard work. Due to an irreversible blood thinner he had to stay on, his head injury was deadly. Sue and Fred were married for over 46 years at his death, and on what would have been their 50th anniversary (August 2nd, 2025), the extended family spread his ashes in his beloved hometown of Two Rivers, Wisconsin. Sue and family are left with beautiful memories of him and of their life together.

Nostalgia

There are so many memories from her time at Carroll. Remembering freshman year and the skits each dorm floor did. Freshman girls in North House and Freshman guys in South House. 2nd floor won, and "2nd to none" shirts were made and proudly worn. Then there were the boys who decided streaking through the courtyard was a good idea. Also, the decision whether to join a fraternal organization or not. Alpha Xi Delta won out for Sue! Meals at Saga. Trying to cross the street from Saga to go right to class without walking down to the light. Eight o'clock classes and trying not to sign up for them. All-nighters before exams. Sorority and Fraternity formals. Schlags! The best thing in Sue's life was meeting Fred at a Schlag. It was 10 days before the end of her freshman year. They wrote all summer, dated in the fall, and were pinned by December. They got engaged in August, and Sue had a sorority candlelight when back to school. The beginning of a beautiful life together!

Professors

Doctor Jacobsen's classes were small and rather fun. In nice weather, they were sometimes even held outdoors! Viola Wendt's creative writing class was by far a favorite. Richard E. Hill was the assistant to the college president while Sue was first at Carroll. She ran into him crossing campus from a class and recognized him immediately as the minister from her grandmother's church. He had left the church to obtain the position at Carroll. He had done beautiful sermons and impacted Sue's life during his time preaching, so even though technically not a professor, he was most definitely the one who influenced her the most!

Daniel Faraca

“In 1977 I got my MS in Mathematics at Western Illinois University. I have finally retired after 46+ years in IT.”

Nostalgia

“A very hot day when we graduated - it must have been in the 90s.”

Professors

Quinn Grosskopf: A very strong commitment to student success.

Lorna Granger

Lorna headed directly to law school after realizing her BA, with an English major and Sociology and Art minors, was unlikely to lead to gainful employment. She graduated from the University of Wisconsin Law School in 1978, and moved to Milwaukee with her new husband to start a career in the private practice of health law. Lorna remained in private practice for 24 years. She then became General Counsel of Blue Cross/Blue Shield of Wisconsin. Subsequently, she served as Chief Legal Officer of a regional health center. Lorna retired from the practice of law in 2015. She retains her license, however, in case the ideal volunteer opportunity presents itself. Life is now full of travel, volunteering and political protests.

Family Update

One week after law school graduation, Lorna married Bill Soderstrom, a fellow law grad. The wedding was officiated by The Rev. Deborah Block '74 and music was provided by Sue Goad '75. Lorna and Bill have 3 children, Nathan (43), Annie (41), and Lucas (36). They also have 3 grandchildren, Gabrielle (6), Rose (3) and Wyatt (7 weeks).

Nostalgia

Lorna's most colorful memories come from North Bergstrom, 2nd floor, her freshman year. The group was, indeed, second to none. The t-shirts confirmed it. Lorna remains fast friends with some of those hooligans.

Professors

Dr. Gordon Folsom, without a doubt. He was demanding, but fair. His Shakespeare class nearly did Lorna in. When it was time to seek a faculty letter of recommendation for law school, Lorna mustered her courage and asked Dr. Folsom to write one. He did. It worked. The rest is history.

Barry Gross

“I attended The John Marshall Law School and graduated in January 1980. I was sworn in as a lawyer. I was hired as an Assistant State’s Attorney of Cook County and worked there until 1989. While there, I prosecuted the most serious crimes, including murder and rape cases. I left and began a solo practice, which lasted until May 2024. After practicing law for 44 years, I retired.”

Family Update

“I married in November 1978. My wife, Janet, and I raised two terrific kids, Adam & Jessica. Janet was an elementary and special education teacher, and she is now retired. Adam is 41, married, and is the CEO of Temple Sinai in Chicago. Jessica is 37 and lives in Alexandria, Virginia. She is married. She works for a large non-profit organization in Washington, D.C.”

Nostalgia

“In my junior year, I attended The Hebrew University in Jerusalem, Israel. Within 2 months of arriving in Israel, the Yom Kippur War broke out. I have very vivid memories of the war and its effect on the Israeli people. I hope in my lifetime that peace will break out.”

Professors

- 1.) James Renberg & James Wood – History
- 2.) David Molthen – Theatre

Paul Kamikawa

“I am retired from 3 companies. I still play guitar and sold my Harleys after 10 visits to Sturgis. I spend my time bicycling, kayaking, fishing, and visiting family.”

Family Update

Living in Winneconne, Wisconsin, with Theresa my wife of 51 years. We got married during my senior year. We have 4 boys, 2 daughters-in-law and 4 grandchildren. The oldest grandchild is 21, and the youngest is 3.

Nostalgia

“I learned the CSN song 4 and 20 when I was at Carroll. I can now almost sing 4 and 70. I remember splitting the freshman Carroll beanie with my friend and roommate, Kento, to get into freshman events.”

Professors

Dr. O'Farrell, Mathematics

Jane (Vogel) Mantiri

Jane lives in Portland, OR, and is a retired trauma psychologist, actor, and social justice advocate. She starred as Fred's Mom on Portlandia and is currently touring a solo memoir show she wrote called See Jane Run, An Indo Story. She will perform her show at Carroll on October 9, 2025, at 4 pm. Jane's passions include pickleball and spending time with family and friends.

Nostalgia

"The highlight of my Carroll years was running track. Our team was small but mighty. Running track taught me about strength, endurance, and giving everything you've got when it matters most."

Professors

"Veralyn Cline, my track coach, was an invaluable mentor. She led by example with compassion, skill, and a wonderful sense of humor. I'm grateful to call her my friend today. Dr. Milo Molanovich, Religion professor, did not preach. But he asked questions that helped me see myself and the world in a way that dismantled barriers and limitations."

Diane (White) Peterson

“I taught (full-time) Health & Physical Education classes at Mt. Hood Community College from 1980 - 2010. I then retired and taught as a part-time instructor and primarily online classes, which I had developed. I retired completely at the end of 2020. Since 2021, I have been running the World Marathon Majors - New York, Chicago, Boston, Berlin, London, and I earned the six-star medal in Tokyo this past spring. I also ran the Sydney Marathon in September 2024, which was also the World Marathon Masters Age Group Championships. I finished 2nd in my age group with a personal best time of 3:52:37.”

Family Update

“I met my husband, Greg, at Mt. Hood CC when I was teaching at the Aquatic Center, and he was in charge of all the mechanical operations and the lifeguards. We were married in December 1983. Unfortunately, he passed away in June 2022. We have one daughter, Keelan, who is in New York City, working in marketing and public relations.”

Nostalgia

“I have several memories - one was the year the women's track team had to make our own uniforms in order to have matching uniforms to compete in the collegiate state championships. Most of us cut out the patterns from the material purchased by coach Verallyn Cline. My twin sister, Denise, and Jane (Vogel) Mantiri did all the sewing. Another memory also involves track. Running the 440-yard intermediate hurdles at the state championships, I finished a very close second, falling across the finish line. Peter Tegan, head coach for the University of Wisconsin, told me soon after that my best event would be the steeplechase. If it had been offered for women, I definitely would have run it!”

Professors

Verallyn Cline, Jane Swanson, Cliff Juedes, and John Batha.

Theodore Poulos

"I own two successful businesses; one in transportation and the other in women's shoes. I import, design and sell stylish and sexy women's shoes. I enjoy playing a lot of golf and regularly interacting with the many quality people in my life. I love traveling and a wide array of social fun! I also enjoy driving my Corvette. They're tons of fun as well as being fast and quick!"

Family Update

"Single, never been married. No kids! I also wanted to add my name on Facebook and Instagram handle."

Nostalgia

Making so many quality friends while attending Carroll and maintaining them over the years!

Professors

Dr. Inveiss, Dr. Hudson, Dr. Wadleigh, Dr. Stuligross

Joe Sabol

Joe Sabol earned a PhD in chemistry from Oklahoma State University and received postdoctoral training in chemical engineering at the University of Minnesota, before teaching chemistry and studying transport properties of crystalline metal oxides. In 1999, Joe formed a consulting company, providing technical and business development services to the chemical sector, and moved to Michigan's Upper Peninsula. In 2003, Joe was appointed to the Marquette County [MI] Local Emergency Planning Committee and has been Chair since 2017. In 2018, Joe was named Fellow of the American Chemical Society, in recognition of his contributions to the Society's governance and his professional accomplishments. Recently, Joe has organized conference symposia on the mitigation of the greenhouse gas methane and squashing mis- and dis-information around public health and environmental issues. Joe is an avid gardener, is a founding member of the Marquette Community Garden, and operates his family homestead farm in Racine County.

Nostalgia

The January 1974 ice storm and January 1975 self-designed study.

Professors

“Both Tom Williams (Philosophy) and Mike Fallgatter (Chemistry) were 100% approachable and welcomed me into their office/home to discuss any and all topics, including current affairs, sports, music, and life skills (in a venue different from a father or big brother). When I was teaching, I followed that model (if I turned a student away, they might not return). All of the faculty in the Chemistry Department (Mike Fallgatter, Bud Hudson, Dick Bayer, Ray Wendland, and Bruce Cozzini) were top drawer and had a profound impact on me, including relentless attention to detail, critical thinking, career advice, sharing used books, meals together, and providing introductions to the Milwaukee chemical community.”

Susan (Davidson) Scullin

Susan and David married in 1976 and, within a few short years, were transferred from Milwaukee to Dallas, Texas. This was immediately home, where they have been ever since, except for a short stint in Phoenix, Arizona. Susan is involved in many organizations in Dallas, including the Dallas Arboretum and Botanical Gardens, the Dallas Symphony, The Dallas Museum of Art, Mes Amies and Kidney Texas. She has especially loved doing fundraising events for each of these organizations. She has also been a member of her Bible Study at St. Andrews Methodist Church for over 36 years! Fulfilling a lifelong desire to be a miniaturist, the last several years have been spent building complex dollhouses, complete with lighting. A dream fulfilled!

Family Update

Having been married nearly 50 years, they have two wonderful children, Katie and Michael, and their wonderful spouses. Susan is happily called GG by four beautiful grandchildren [whom she is passing along the love of miniatures to]! Luckily, they all live in Texas and see each other often and love traveling together. Family is the most important thing in Susan and David's lives. Their lives have been blessed.

Marna (Tess) Tess-Mattner

Twelve days after graduating from Carroll, Marna married Kent Mattner on campus, combining their surnames to Tess-Mattner. Social work degree in hand, she worked in corrections while Kent raced bicycles and went to law school. Then she went to law school, and for the next 37 years practiced management labor and employment law. She and Kent retired at the end of 2020 (smack in the middle of COVID); they are thoroughly enjoying retirement. Travel: England, Scotland, Ireland, Germany, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Spain, Portugal, Italy, Austria, Hungary, Czech Republic, Argentina, Uruguay, Vietnam, Hong Kong, Canada (Montreal, Quebec & Vancouver), Mexico, and (via a cruise) various Caribbean islands. Marna has served on the State Bar of Wisconsin Board of Governors, Carroll's Board of Trustees, the Wauwatosa Police and Fire Commission, and many others. She sings with the Master Singers of Milwaukee and in her church choir, plays in her church's bell choir, and is in three book clubs.

Family Update

Marna and Kent have a daughter, who is married and has two kids (now both teenagers) and a large dog. They live half a mile from Kent & Marna in beautiful Wauwatosa, WI. Kent and Marna celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary by taking the family to Hawaii.

Nostalgia

Carroll taught Marna leadership skills and gave her confidence. Through Student Senate and governance committees (each having representatives of administration, faculty, staff and students), she learned that she could work with the president, deans, professors, staff, and other students to make a difference on campus. For a very shy kid, that was life-changing! The Independent Study Program, which allowed 10% of each class to take any courses they wished, with no core requirements, except they had to take all requirements for any declared major or minor, allowed her to take courses she otherwise might not have been able to fit into her schedule, many of which became some of her favorite courses (e.g., Art History, Theology and Film, History of Film). She has SO many memories of classes, talks and parties with friends, singing in choirs under the direction of Dr. Burnham, January Terms, pranks, working food service and in the library -- there is not enough room to list them here.

Professors

Dr. Burnham set incredibly high standards for choral singers, and then demanded that students reach them. Dr. Bud Hudson became a lifelong friend (Marna had him for a January Term course). Dr. Marceil Pultorak made art history come alive. Professor David Molthen instilled a lifelong love of and appreciation for theatre and film.

Kent (Mattner) Tess-Mattner

“Marna Tess (1975) and I got married on campus 12 days after graduation by the college chaplain. After trying and failing to make the 1976 USA Olympic Cycling Team, I graduated from Marquette Law School in 1980. I practiced trial, appellate and family law for 40 years, and retired at the end of 2000. My hobbies include cycling (still at it 50 years later) and playing the trombone (now that I am retired, I play in 4-5 music groups, depending on the time of year). Much of our travel entailed chaperoning the Milwaukee Youth Symphony Orchestra on their overseas summer concert tours, which we did for 20 years, but we have also traveled on our own too. As part of that travel, we have enjoyed Carroll alumni tours, and encourage all of you to go on at least one of them!”

Family Update

“As stated above, in 1975 I married Marna Tess from our class, and we celebrated our 50th wedding anniversary this May. We have one child, and she and her husband and their two kids (our grandkids) live about 8 blocks from our house, so we get to see them and our grandkids all of the time, to our delight. The oldest grandchild started high school his fall, and his sister is only one grade behind. They enjoy riding bicycles with their Papa.”

Nostalgia

“Besides meeting Marna and falling in love, I very much enjoyed living in Morgan Manor (the Morgue) my last two years on campus. I have also kept in touch with my college roommates, Paul ("Chips") Kamikawa (freshman and junior year) and Don Lintner (sophomore year). Another fond memory is the small class sizes. One of my majors was philosophy, and often Pete Stecher and I were the only two in those classes. Even in religion classes (my other major), we had small class sizes.”

Professors

“Eugene Haugse (Political Science), Gordon Folsom (English) and O. Lamar Cope (Religion) probably influenced me the most. I not only took two political science classes from Dr. Haugse, but he was the pre-law advisor at Carroll and helped me get into law school. Dr. Folsom was probably the most intellectual person I have ever met in my life and I loved taking his senior level class on transactional grammar. I took every religion course offered at Carroll, and found Dr. Cope's to be the most intellectually satisfying. I should also mention the impact that Viola Wendt had on my writing. I made her pull out her hair with my (her words) "unholy fascination with the passive voice," but know she would have been proud of my legal writing. (I was named one of the Best Lawyers in America in Appellate Law by U.S. News and World Report, and authored several hundred legal briefs in my career). Needless to say, I got rid of the passive voice!”

Jim Toth

“Since graduation, I have had two careers, first as an art teacher and K12 supervisor for the South Milwaukee School District and then as the Director of Exhibits for the Betty Brinn Children’s Museum in Milwaukee. Both were challenging and rewarding. I also concurrently pursued my own art as a sculptor, showing at numerous art fairs and in group and solo shows around Milwaukee. Karen and I have lived in a small home in the Bay View neighborhood of Milwaukee since 1979 and enjoy being the “old folks” on the block and now, Golden Pioneers.”

Highlights

“Highlights of my time at Carroll include Saturday steak dinners with the sundae bar; the camaraderie of long hours in the art studio; DRU serenades and Spring Sing performances; living in a study room for a semester; working at the Auction Depot; singing and dancing with the legendary Peace with Grease; and, of course, great experiences with a caring and inspiring faculty! But the best experience of my Carroll years was finding Karen Johnson on the first floor of Bergstrom Hall. We just celebrated our 48th!”

Sally (Jansen) Turner

Shortly after graduation, Sally met Joe Vitale, a 6th-grade teacher and Carroll Alum. He was developing an Environmental Education Program that ultimately grew into a district-wide program, K-12. He invited Sally to come on board as a teacher. This invitation grew into a career of 50 years. What an opportunity to make a difference in the lives of youth! At a later date, Sally learned basket weaving from an accomplished weaver of black ash and member of the Potawatomi Nation. That introduction kick-started an adventure of learning about plants suitable for weaving and building structures. To date the Waukesha School District has "wigloos" or willow structures at 6 different sites created collaboratively with students, parents and staff. Creating art and structures with natural fibers has become part of the EE Curriculum. Sally was humbled and honored to receive the district's Sally Jo Michalko Lifetime Excellence in Education Award earlier this year.

Family Update

Sally married Tom L. Turner (Class of '74), and this past summer, they celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. During the month of June, they enjoyed a land and sea excursion of Alaska. A special dinner with family; Nicole and Rob Hanosh (granddaughters Abby and Ellie) Paul Turner and Sarah Sleider and Bryan and Katie Turner (grandson Peter) was the icing on the celebration cake. Tom is retired from teaching middle and high school and a career in the steel industry that spanned 40 years. Sally continues to work a flexible schedule with the Waukesha School District's Environmental Education Program as teacher and mentor. Tom and Sally enjoy newfound flexibility in their schedules, allowing them to complete home projects put on the shelf during busier times, special moments with family and friends, and travel.

Nostalgia

It was the feel of a Carroll experience, not just in the classroom but throughout the entire campus community, that to this day continues to resonate. The thrill of being in a place of peers who were culturally and socially diverse, whether they came from the other side of the globe or a few miles from campus. So many opportunities to have great discussions ranging from political climates to "what is a Schlag and how does one dress for it"? Knowing that friendship and support were always available from Carroll Staff and newly found relationships among peers. Sometimes these bonds were created in the midst of January, when at 3 am, groups would go out into the cold for an impromptu snowball fight and snowman building session. Followed by "borrowing" cafeteria trays for makeshift sleds on St. Mary's hill. :o)

Professors

Carroll Professors of influence include Willis Guthrie; Chair of the Art Department and Marceil Pultorak; Professor of Art. Willis, or Wis as he was known, was ahead of his time with his assemblage art style. Once per month, there would be a Friday delivery to the Art Dept. of a huge bale bound together with plastic strapping from St. Vinnie's for $5. It was cut open late in the day, and the items inside exploded outward in relief from being bound for who knows how long. Wis's wardrobe, potential art media and wardrobe pieces for anyone present were theirs for the taking. Marceil was strong, progressive and caring. How she could design and fabricate huge metal sculptures that found their way into downtown Milwaukee was over-the-top incredible. She was the heartbeat of Carroll's Art Department and helped numerous students fledge in ways that were uniquely theirs.

Chris Ramsey and LuAnn Udovich

LuAnn Udovich married her college sweetheart, Chris Ramsey, on June 14, 1975, after graduation. Chris began his 36-year teaching career with the Waukesha Public School System in the fall of 1975. LuAnn substituted teaching until the birth of their first child. They lived in Menomonee Falls from 1976-1993 until they moved back into Waukesha. Chris completed his 50th year of coaching Track and Field last spring and will be completing his 50th year of coaching Cross Country this fall. He coached at Waukesha North from 1976-1993 and at Waukesha West from 1993 until present. His Girls' Cross Country and Track and Field Teams have won 13 State Titles. LuAnn has been a facilitator for the Waukesha Memory Cafe since 2015. Milwaukee Bucks Season Ticket holders since 2015.

Family Update

LuAnn and Chris celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary this year. Their children are Jennifer-Florida, Matthew-Wisconsin, Serena-Virginia, and Emily-Utah. They have been blessed with eleven grandchildren ranging from ages 4-24. Chris was able to coach all three of his daughters on State Championship Teams. Eva, their granddaughter, is currently a freshman at Carroll.

Nostalgia

They began dating on LuAnn's birthday junior year, and the rest is history. LuAnn was the third of seven Udovich children who graduated from Carroll.

Professors

Bud Hudson and Bruce MacIntyre, who Chris stayed in touch with, as he taught with their wives. Chris also got to coach David Hudson in a meet at UCLA. Everyone was influenced by Shirley Hilger. We attend church today with Gary Stephens. Verallyn Cline and CBJ(Clifford Juedes) have influenced both of us in our coaching philosophies.
